Letters Written to S. L. Lupton, President of Good Roads Association, Explains Convening of Lawmakers Is Not Necessary.

Werlfying reports which have been current for several days relative to Governor Dayis attitude toward taking the responsibility of calling an extra session of the General Assembly to consider the matter of meeting the Federal appropriation for good roads, the Governor has made public his correspondence with S. L. Lupton, president of the Virginia Good Roads Association, and Senator W. C. Corbitt, of Portsmouth.

In his communication to Commissioner Lupton, Governor Davis makes it-plain that his decision against calling the extra session of the General Assembly was in direct opposition to the resolution adopted by the executive committee of the State Good Roads Association urging the extra session, He had arrived at the conclusion, he said, that such extraordinary session is not necessary to the public welfare."

LEGION WILL CHAMPION NO POLITICAL CANDIDATE

Organization of Former Service Men Stands Only for Principles of Americanism.

DELEGATES TURN IN REPORT

Local Branch Will Inaugurate Campaign for Membership-Plans to Be Formulated for Participation in Home-Coming of Troops.

That the American Legion, composed of men who served in any branch of the armed forces of the United States during the time of her partici-

States during the time of her participation in the world war, is absolutely nonpartisan, and will lend its support to the caudidacy of no man for public office was the message brought last night to the local branch by John J. Wicker and C. Brock Pollard, delegates to the caucus of the organization at st. Louis.

For fear ex-service men and the public generally might suspect this, it is reported that Licutenant-Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, named by the caucus of the American expeditionary force as temporary chairman in this country, declined to accept the leadership at St. Louis. Men of the legion have gone on record as declaring that they stand only for 100 per cent Americanism.

they stand only for 100 per cent Americanism.

C. Brock Pollard told the local branch that two-thirds of the delegates at St. Louis were former enlisted men, which, the lexion hopes, will explode the idea obtaining in some quarters that the organization is for former others, rather than for all men who did part honorably, in the war.

Plans for a membership campaign were discussed at the meeting last night, and, as a result, an effort will be made to secure as members of the organization all former army, navy and marine corps men in Richmond. The next meeting will be held in the Chimber of Commerce auditorium on Friday night, May 23. At this time plans will be discussed for participation by the legion in the welcome to be extended returning troops.

Manhattan Shirts

-Because, Nowadays, Men's Apparel Standards Are Higher

Men once wore shirts inferior to Manhattans; they could do it now, but would theythose who are accustomed to the best? This is a question that young men who rank highest in the business, professional and social life of Richmond are answering for themselves daily as they file into the "Men's Corner" for a summer's supply of Manhattans-their favorite shirts. And, to many officers and men just leaving the nation's service, the sight of the familiar "Manhattan Label" is like greetings from an old Manhattan Shirts, therefore, are synonymous with luxury of quality supreme; the comfort of correct proportions; the economy of faultless workmanship. And men appreciating these basic elements of superiority in shirts never hesitate in paying the Manhattan price.

In the "Men's Corner" the most recent Manhattan patterns and color combinations for summer-in madras, satin broche, solway batiste, Oxfords, Peau de Silks and others-are now being exhibited. Our window evidences the extensive variety being shown inside.
